JULIE COURET

7602 BUSINESS PERFORMANCE

Julie is the Executive Coach for real people. Known for her intuitive understanding and assessment of her clients, she provides specific actionable feedback and guidance that ensures results. Julie has been training leaders and developing team communication and problem-solving skills for almost 20 years.

Launched originally as Willoz Consulting, Julie became a certified coach and rebranded her firm as 7602. She maintained an active leadership role as president of the Louisiana Association of Colleges & Employers and was brought on to teach in the College of Business with Tulane's School of Continuing Studies. The board of directors for the five-star accredited Jefferson Chamber of Commerce recognized her business acumen and invited her to join.

Julie helps her clients create a culture of performance management; whatever work is needed:

- 1) Build a performance management system from the ground up.*
- 2) Roll out a conflict resolution and employee engagement process.*
- 3) Create a performance appraisal process that supports professional development all year round.*
- 4) Implement your already designed but underutilized performance management system.*
